GOAL, $33,500 — SCORE, $13,897

Arlington is playing its most important game of the year this week when an all-star team is out to break the records of all past years. This sporting event, a thriller, consists of skimming snow drifts on skis, hurdling snow banks, skating up your neighbor's steps, and punching his doorbell to score a point in the Greater Boston 1943 United War Fund Drive. The score to date is $13,897. The Goal is $33,500.

Certainly in no year were more handicaps placed before the team than this year. A week of storm, snow, and sleet has left the course in most dangerous conditions. Every walk and set of stairs are a hazard in themselves. Illness has taken some of the varsity members, too. But there are the new-comers to the ranks who are just waiting for their big chance. And here it is. To win this year the Arlington mentors must score higher than in previous years. Such are the odds in the race to set up a new record in the drive for funds.

This week as the sun came out and the highway department cleared the streets the race was on in earnest. Arguments as to past records were challenged by the cry, "What are you doing this year?" Perhaps these cross-country specialists were thinking of the boys in prison camps—members of the Barbed Wire Legion—to whom a few pieces of athletic equipment mean the difference between sanity and loss of everything. It is not difficult to visualize the joy of men—lovers of sports as Americans are—caught like trapped rats behind wire barricades—when they get some baseball equipment. It will not take long to get a game going. Others will watch. Even some one will umpire. It's a real touch of home. No wonder then over the cross-country, over snow banks, under fences, and across ponds the solicitors hasten to score a new amount so that these men may get a break.

Fighting men in the ranks of every branch of service have the real love of sports. Not forgotten are the days at high school when they played on the team. Later at college and so into the game of life was the spirit carried. Until now it is the spirit that will win this real fight against the Axis. Many a man in the service is thinking of the sports, wondering whether the home team is in there giving everything. We can't let such a spirit die.

Those who have seen the Fund movies have seen some glimpses of the activities that are financed in this way. Not all is for the man in uniform. Mr. Everyday Citizen and his family are being kept in the race of life by skillful medical attention, by wholesome recreation and by sympathetic encouragement. If some of the kiddies who get a break from the Fund could collect, they would tear at our heartstrings with their real stories from life. They are to be the citizens of tomorrow. It is kids like those of yesterday who are in the ranks today.

It is not the easiest game in the world to plough through snow drifts and ring doorbells. It is just a thankless task to pursue the dollar these days to keep our community in the race to provide funds for this great undertaking. "The 1943 Greater Boston United War Fund". There are no headlines nor cheers for the everyday men who come to collect. So why not be ready with your bit. Give enough soon enough. That is the only reward they ask. You can do it. It isn't for them. It's for some one else less fortunate than we—be it our neighbor nearby or our own son far away. We repeat, "Give enough soon enough."

Lieut. Paul Richmond Now at Camp Polk, La.

Nothing Daunts Allied War Relief Workers

Neither cold, sleet, snow, nor rain daunts Allied War Relief workers. This includes Monday's slush and damp for on that day the vestry of the Orthodox Congregational church was filled with enthusiastic workers, among them many who were new.

Seventy-nine sat down to luncheon. Rev. and Mrs. Lawrence L. Barber and Russell Cone were guests. Mr. Barber spoke with feeling on "This Freedom", which grows more and more precious as the war goes on.

It was announced the blood donors to the Red Cross will go to Boston on February 11. They are in charge of Mrs. Clarence Hunter. Any one who wishes to do so is urged to join the group and to telephone their intentions to Mrs. Hunter.

Mrs. S. N. Chandler, chairman of the committee to make smocks for the workers, said that the garments would cost $3.50. A selection can be made of materials and they will be tailored to fit.

Mrs. Cone, committee chairman, read letters from the boys in the service containing belated thanks for Christmas gifts and one from the English Speaking Union, complimenting the committee on the perfect work they turned in. Some of their work for Holland is exhibited in Gilchrist's window. She also read from the booklet, "British Information Service", and remarked that after hearing the restrictions in force there, people here shouldn't complain. Twenty-five outside groups, she said, are now working for Allied Relief.

Mrs. Russell Hamlet spoke on the lectures on food and point rationing to be given next Monday afternoon at two o'clock at the Arlington Gas Light Company, Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock in the Park Avenue Congregational church, and at half past ten the morning of February 12th at the Capitol Theatre. Mrs. Roscoe Perry reported that many more knitters had signed up—good ones so that less and less corrective work is necessary.

Those present were asked when taking used clothing for the Allied Relief to be sure it reached 5 Mystic street.

It was a red letter day for the food table which realized over eight dollars. This feature was in charge of St. John's church, the committee being Mrs. Arthur King, Mrs. Aillya Fitch, Mrs. Floyd Zink, Mrs. William Bell and Mrs. William Salter. The luncheon earned $12.04 for the cause and the tea, $6.00.

Meeting Cancelled

The February eleventh meeting of the Locke School P.T.A. has been cancelled due to the restrictions on the use of the school building. It is hoped that Principal Henry Ottosen of Junior High West, who was the scheduled speaker, will be able to speak at a later meeting.

A MISUNDERSTANDING

There has been a slight misunderstanding in connection with the resignation of the officers of the Arlington Unit of the M. W. D. C. The resigned officers of the Arlington Unit wish to put themselves on record, at this time (before the Farley vs. Hammond Hearing) that they resigned from the M. W. D. C. not because of Colonel Hammond's dismissal but for many reasons. These officers DID NOT resign from the Arlington Unit and do intend, AS IN THE PAST, to continue with the three companies and function as a civilian defense organization.

If, as and when, affairs of the M. W. D. C. are satisfactorily ironed out, it is possible that the Unit may rejoin. Until such time we will continue as usual.

It may be of interest to the good citizens of the Town of Arlington to know that everything we are and have been has been due to the untiring efforts of each and every member of the Arlington Unit plus a few interested, patriotic citizens of Arlington.

The Unit will continue to function and hold its regular classes at its headquarters, 430 Massachusetts Avenue. We might also add that we are equipped with medical supplies consisting of blankets, first aid cases, stretchers, etc. The Unit is anxious and most willing to be connected with the Medical Disaster Unit of the Town of Arlington.

Prisoner of Japs To Speak Sunday

At the Orthodox Congregational church Sunday morning at 10:45 a. m., the speaker will be Charles W. Copp, for the past 21 years a teacher in Japanese Government schools. The morning of the attack on Pearl Harbor, the military authorities entered his school room, placed him under immediate arrest and for three months he was in solitary confinement. Each day he was questioned by the police seeking to obtain military information. Following his solitary confinement, he spent two months in a Japanese internment camp. He was recently sent back to the United States as an exchange prisoner. His story is one of the most thrilling which has been brought back to us from the Orient.

HIGH SCHOOL BOYS HELP TO CLEAN STREETS OF SNOW

No Extra Men Apply for Work. Storm Costs the Town about $11,000.

A hundred High School boys turned out to help the Public Works Department clear Arlington streets of the snow that fell last Thursday in the heaviest storm of the year. Superintendent Edward J. O'Brien had the plows out Thursday and some of the boys, also. In spite of this, on Friday morning buses found it impossible to go up Overlook road and Park avenue.

For the first time in years there were no men at the town yard looking for work. This meant that the Department employees, who knew how to handle plows, trucks, bulldozers, and loaders, had to work some of them from eight in the morning through to the next morning (Continued on Page 4)

New Names Added To Woman's Club's "Victory Chart"

The members of the Arlington Woman's Club are watching their Victory Chart grow and new names are being added week by week as interest in war work develops. The chart which is soon to go to the artist for final touches has been in progress for several months. Its main purpose is to create a greater interest among club members in war work and each member who is active in any way will have her name and the activities to which she is devoting her time listed. These activities include Red Cross work, selling defense bonds and stamps, visiting the camps or hospitals, Air Raid Warden work, adopting a soldier or sailor, giving blood—anything connected with war services.

Club members are reminded that the half year has passed and if they have friends who would like to join this year they may do so for half year's dues plus the tax and registration fee. There is to be a reception to all members who have joined this year in the Spring and the club would like to see many new friends. Any woman interested in joining may contact Mrs. Arthur Davidson, 10 Bonad road, who is membership chairman.

Marriages

BATES --- KENNEDY

Miss Elizabeth Jane Kennedy, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. David Roy Kennedy, 800 Massachusetts avenue, and Byron Delano Bates, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence A. Bates of New Bedford, were joined in holy matrimony Friday evening at the Orthodox Congregational church by Rev. Laurence L. Barber.

Edward W. Center, close friend of the family, was at the organ. He played during the seating of 200 guests by the ushers—Carrick Dickey Kennedy of Winchester, the bride's brother, David Beaba of Fairhaven, and Warner Clifford and Eugene P. Peterson of Arlington.

The decorations at the church were simple and dignified. Three large white urns filled with white roses, gladiolas and calla lilies, stood out in relief against a background of palms. They were flanked by two six-pronged candelabra with varying lengths of lighted white tapers.

At the well known signal notes of Lohengrin's wedding march, the bridal party proceeded up the aisle in the accustomed order, the bride on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage. She wore a gown of ivory satin, with a princess coat of the same material, with beautiful lace panels made with a square court train. Her finger-tip veil of tulle was caught to a scalloped seed pearl Juliet cap. She carried a bouquet of white roses, white lilies and bouvardia. Her sister Ann, as honor attendant, wore a full skirted violet faille taffeta frock, edged at the neck and sleeves with aqua lace, with a matching headdress of ostrich tips. She carried a bouquet of spring flowers.

The bridesmaids were Miss Mary Elizabeth Johnson of Topsham, Me., and Miss Patricia Kilmer Crouch of Boston. Their frocks, fashioned as was the honor attendant's with long waisted basques and full skirts, were of aqua faille taffeta, edged at the neck and sleeves with violet lace, with aqua ostrich tips becomingly arranged in the hair. Spring flowers were carried.

The reception, immediately following the ceremony, was held at the Winchester Country Club. The wedding party received the guests at the north end of the assembly hall where palms and spring flowers were artistically used. In the receiving line friends met the groom's parents, Mrs. Bates were a becoming blue lace and a corsage of orchids, while Mrs. Kennedy's gown was of Vionnet blue crepe with trimming of gold leaves studded with rhinestones. Her corsage was pink camellias.

The tables spread at the west side of the hall were gleamy with white candles and large urns of white flowers.

The highlight of the evening was the cutting of the bride's cake. Then came the tossing of the bride's bouquet from the balcony, which was caught by Miss Winnifred Northrup.

At eleven o'clock the couple dashed out through a paper shower amid cheers and cries of "good luck." Mrs. Bates' traveling dress was of green velvet trimmed with Irish lace, with top-coat of green tweed with matching hat.

After the formal reception many guests repaired to the Kennedy house to see the beautiful wedding gifts spread on tables set up in one of the upper rooms of this spacious home.

The bride, a graduate of Arlington High School, attended the Modern School of Applied Art, the Boston Conservatory of Music and the Lane Secretarial School. The groom is a member of the class of 1943 at Northeastern University.

After a brief wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Bates will make their home at 55 Park Drive, Boston.

The best man was Walter Hoban of Jamaica Plain, and the ushers were Yeoman Edward Vincent Keating, Jr., Yeoman Albert Flatery, Paul Keating of Arlington, and Robert Laughlin of Chelsea.

Gowned in white satin with a long lace veil, the bride carried white roses and sweet peas. Her honor maid was in pink lace and net, and the bridesmaids wore blue satin and net, all three attendants carrying colonial bouquets of different shades of sweet peas. They all wore tulle veiling with ostrich plumes in their hair.

After a wedding trip to New York and New Jersey, the bridal couple will make their home in Jamaica Plain.

This winter if you are asked to curtail gas because it is needed for war production, please remember:

- 1 War plants need tremendous quantities of gas to make precision parts for bombers, fighting planes, guns, tanks, ships and other war goods.
- 2 Under normal conditions, we could obtain steel and other materials to enlarge our gas supply and meet all demands. Today, this cannot be done.
- 3 The use of gas in war plants conserves coke, coal and oil and relieves transportation, thereby enabling railroads to move war goods faster.

Every one of us must help conserve vital fuels needed by war plants. Will you help?

ARLINGTON MOVES INTO TIE FOR TOP OF LEAGUE

Beats Rindge by Goal in Last Period. Score, 5 to 4.

Arlington High hockey players moved into a tie with Medford for the top of the Greater Boston League—the position they had lost the week before—last Saturday when they beat Rindge Tech. 5 to 4 in the Boston Garden. The winning score, made by Colley, came in the last period.

Rindge was handicapped by the loss of left winger Henry Moulton, who broke his jawbone in a practice session, but Desrosiers and Verrier ran Rindge's score up to three to the Townies one—put in by Wells with Connolly assisting.

Three quick scores in the second period put Arlington one ahead. Ralph Colley shot from the right boards and goalie Ed Collins brushed the disk into his own net attempting to clear. With Desrosiers and Verrier enjoying a few minutes breather, the Townies slapped in two quick ones as Pat Connolly set up teammates Shad Byrnes and Louis Reyeroft on nice assists, which both converted.

Dick Briand tied the score unassisted for the Technicians half-way through the final period, but Arlington's front line clicked for a nifty by Ralph Colley after passes from Mel Massucco and Jim Malone for the clincher.

The summary:

Arlington Rindge
Bevins, g E. Collins

and board for the services given by retiring board members Mrs. E. Sherman Hall and Lester Collins. Mrs. Sawyer also praised Mrs. C. E. Johnson for her work as associate president, and complimented her on her willingness to continue serving the organization as a member of the executive board, after the office of associate president had been abolished as much of the work done by the president and associate president had been taken over by the executive secretary.

Mr. Clarke in giving his annual report as executive secretary, stressed the service given by a family society to the home front, pointing out the services available to the community through the A. S. S. L. as not only of a financial nature made necessary by low income but as a service in cases involving emotional difficulties, marital maladjustments, behavior problems among children, alcoholism, difficulties between parents and children, problems in health, medical and dental care. He pointed out the resources available through the United War Fund, and how many of the families coming to the A. S. S. L. were referred to another agency better able to give the specialized form of service which the family might require. Over 222 families were given some form of assistance during the past year by the league.

Dr. Augusta Bronner of the Judge Baker Guidance Clinic of Boston, the guest speaker, spoke on the adolescent boy and girl of today, pointing out that many of the problems among young people are those that have been always present in youth but have simply become exaggerated due many times to the outside pressure put upon them.

After the meeting while refreshments were being served, many interested listeners had further questions to ask Dr. Bronner.

HIGH SCHOOL BOYS HELP TO CLEAR STREETS OF SNOW

If it had not been for the High School boys, says Supt. O'Brien, the work could never have been done. The list of those willing to help was made up long before the storm came by Charles H. LaDue, who is in charge of placements. The boys who worked were staggered so that they did not lose too much school. At the peak there were one hundred men and one hundred boys at work. Ordinarily, bulldozers are hired from out of town but this year there were none for hire so some of the town equipment had to be used on the dump, leaving an insufficient amount for the rest of the town. Then the fresh snowfall came before the first was cleared away. However, by Monday night most of the snow was cleared away from the center.

About fourteen inches of snow fell in the two storms. Usually, according to S. Alfred Benson, clerk of the Board of Public Works, it costs about a thousand dollars an inch to clean up after a storm. This time, he estimates, the cost will be less—probably about $11,000 in all.

—Friends of H. C. Guernsey of 38 Gray street will sympathize with him in the death of his mother, Mrs. Miriam J. Guernsey of Winter Park, Florida. Mrs. Guernsey died yesterday in her 102d year.

True prayer is heaven's best corrective for the hidden perversity of the human will.

CHURCHES OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST

"Spirit" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon Sunday, February 7, in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts.

The Golden Text is: "Not by might, nor by power, but by my spirit, saith the Lord of hosts" (Zechariah 4:6). Other Bible citations include: "For though we walk in the flesh, we do not war after the flesh: (For the weapons of our warfare are not carnal, but mighty through God to the pulling down of strong holds;) Casting down imaginations, and every high thing that exalteth itself against the knowledge of God, and bringing into captivity every thought to the obedience of Christ" (II Corinthians 10:3-5).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Let the perfect model be present in your thoughts instead of its demoralized opposite. A REPORT TO THE PUBLIC

In which we review 1942 and ask for your co-operation in the war months ahead

Looking back over the year just ended, we believe a report of our operations is of interest and will be helpful and informative to our many riders in Greater Boston.

As the war effort became more intense, an ever increasing number of persons turned to the "El" for transportation. Last December the greatest number of passengers were carried in any month in the railway's history. We have been able to handle the tremendously increased volume of riding because of two factors: first, because of the cooperation of thousands of workers in Boston in staggering their hours of work and riding; and, second, because of the existence of an extensive transit system properly maintained for years past.

In common with all transportation agencies, the Boston Elevated has co-operated with our Government in its conservation programs. As the year 1942 progressed the acute shortages of fuel oil, rubber, and gasoline demanded immediate action.

SAVING 250,000 GALLONS OF FUEL OIL A YEAR

Conversion of oil heating equipment to the use of coal at 11 locations on the railway, including garages, carhouses and lobbies, is saving more than 250,000 gallons of fuel oil on an annual basis.

Complete conversion has been made at all heating plants operated by the railway except at three locations, where only about 4,000 gallons of fuel oil will be used annually.

"GETTING IN THE SCRAP"

In 1942 the railway made available for war purposes more than 24,000 tons of steel, iron and copper scrap. This scrap was made available by the removal of the Atlantic Avenue elevated structure, from abandoned street railway tracks and from the disposal of worn out parts.

SAVING OVER 11,000,000 BUS TIRE MILES

Bus service in duplication of existing rail service was discontinued or curtailed. Bus service furnished on lightly used lines or parts of lines was discontinued or limited to those parts of lines and to those periods of the day when such service was justified under war conditions. The operation of chartered buses for private groups was discontinued except to war plants and for military purposes. The steps taken are saving well over 11,000,000 bus tire miles on an annual basis and are resulting in substantial savings in gasoline.

NEW EQUIPMENT AND REPAIR PARTS DIFFICULT TO OBTAIN

The delivery to any transit company of new cars, buses and trackless trolleys and of repair parts has been sharply limited by the Government. In 1941, anticipating future difficulties in obtaining equipment, many cars and buses which were in storage were reconditioned. By virtue of this timely planning we believe that we face a crucial year able to perform the task of transporting large numbers of people in a war busy metropolitan area.

SAFETY RECORD

We are pleased to report that the Elevated for the sixth time won national recognition for safety by being awarded in 1942 the American Transit Safety Award. We owe the honor for this award to you—our riders —and to the various agencies and organizations working for safety in the community and especially to our employees for their continuous alertness in the safe operation of cars and buses.

A LOOK AHEAD

In 1943 there will be increasing difficulties in obtaining suitable manpower replacements, new equipment and necessary repair parts. There will be crowded cars and buses particularly at rush hours. In this respect we ask your understanding and your active co-operation. Here's how you can make your personal contribution to help meet wartime transportation problems:

FIRST: Plan to make your trip between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. or after 6 p.m. Such planning will leave room for essential war workers to get to and from work by "El". If you can possibly help it, please don't take the "El" between 5 p.m. and 6 p.m.—that's the most crowded time of all.

SECOND: Upon entering a bus or car move away from the doors into the less crowded section. You'll help to speed service.

THIRD: Don't crowd into an already full car or bus. Wait for a less crowded one.

FOURTH: Have exact fare ready. A little foresight on everybody's part will save many precious minutes—save time for everybody.

FIFTH: During the dimout, stop the operator with a hand signal. Bright lights are out for the duration, so you'll be more easily seen if you signal with your hand.

WHEN and where needed, we shall furnish transportation services to the limit of the railway's capacity, keeping always in mind, however, that the order of the day calls for the utmost conservation of all transportation facilities, so vital are they to the successful advancement of war objectives.

THE WOWS

We have the WAACS, the WAVES, the SPARS, the—despite the protests of the Marine official—WAMS, and now come the WOWS. That, at least, is the suggestion arising from a letter read over the radio recently by Kate Smith, a letter from a soldier boy about his mother who, though not in the service, sent up her prayers for the soldiers and spent her time working for war relief. "Mom", he said, "is a wow".

And what is a WOW? The publisher suggests, "A Woman of Women", or perhaps, "Woman, O Woman".

STILL IN THE SERVICE

We were glad to receive the communication from the officers of the Arlington Unit of the Massachusetts Women's Defense Corps, and very glad to hear that the unit is still in the service and functioning as a civilian defense organization.

In fact, we understand, that even while they were resigning they were making plans for further work. Yes, apparently it was a misunderstanding.

A GOOD JOB

"Oh baby, they did a good job. Arlington's the place to live."

That was a lunch counter customer praising the way Arlington streets had been cleared after the storm.

"Yeah", said his neighbor who had struggled in from an adjacent town, "if you can get into it."

Certainly the Public Works Department has maintained its reputation for cleaning the streets up fast after a storm, and has done it in the face of unusual difficulties. So gloomy was the outlook as foreseen a short time ago by the Department chairman that we had envisioned snow in Arlington streets lingering on into the lap of spring. Instead the Center was clean, and fairly dry, day before yesterday.

The Department gives credit for this quick work to the High School boys who turned out to shovel, as well as to the regular employees who worked long hours.

The only complaints have come from those who maintained that the job was too well done. These residents of side streets said that after clearing a space 2 cars wide the plows came back and widened the street. A waste of gas, rubber and man power, said the critics, besides filling up the driveways, which had to be reshoveled after every passage of the plow.

A little explanation showed why this was done. The Public Works Department always looks forward to another storm. The streets are cleared wide enough so that the plows can get through to sweep back the new snowfall and still have a two-way street.

"AND CARRY ON TO VICTORY"

This is Boy Scout Week. The whole nation pauses to salute the organization which has contributed so greatly, in this World War as in the last, to the winning of the War. But Scouting does not rest on its laurels. The praises which Scouts so justly have deserved for their countless services to their country only spur them on to greater endeavor.

Many of the Arlington scout leaders and former Boy Scouts are not only already in the service but have won laurels there. As for the present scouts, they are constant and willing helpers in every war effort. They are ready to act as messengers in emergencies; they helped to collect salvage; they give much of their time to collecting books and packing them for soldiers and sailors—and these are only a few of their activities.

But there are higher services ahead. Almost 400,000 Scouts are 15 years old or older; they may change ranks to the armed forces before the conflict is over.

The soldier who has been a Boy Scout makes a better soldier, and former Sea Scouts are officer material for the Navy, the Coast Guard and the Merchant Marine. The "Toughen Up! Buckle Down! And Carry on to Victory" theme of Scouting until the war ends will save lives through consummate training—and will make better citizens in the process.

Scouting is training for a way of life, the kind America chooses to lead, the kind for which her sons are fighting across the seas. On those fronts, and on the front at home, the qualities which Scouting stands for—courage and character, assure us of Victory and a lasting peace.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Mid a somber and foreboding atmosphere, Goebbels and Goering celebrate Hitler's 10th anniversary as Germany's head man. The R. A. F. furnishes sound effects. The speakers bare the crisis in German man power. A new Nazi decree makes labor service compulsory for all German men from 16 to 65—women from 17 to 45 to be herded in camps, (reports a British radio) "thus making an end to family life."

More than 100,000 Poles arrive at Iran to bolster the Polish Army in the Near East; if this be true approximately 1,330,000 Poles believed to have been sent to Russia after the partition of their country, have now been rehabilitated. These released prisoners supplied with British food and clothing now fight the common enemy.

General Giraud restores property taken from the Jews in North Africa and allows other children to enter schools without discrimination; he repudiates the German-inspired racial doctrines, but does not as yet see eye to eye with Gen. Charles de Gaulle; handshaking, notwithstanding.

Food for civilians in large quantities arrive in North Africa marked "delivered by the United States, whose fleets rule the waves." Would it were so!

Soviet Russia receives 17,000,000 pounds of American butter. Says Wm. Wickard: "I am glad we could send it to them and I am sure you are too," addressing the American public.

America's new Foreign Relief and Rehabilitation Office, headed by Herbert H. Lehman, lays plans to join hands with the Inter-Allied Committee on Post-war Requirements already functioning in London.

Chile now an ally, confiscates secret Axis radio transmitters and documents on operations of a Nazi espionage network. A general clean-up follows.

The former French Ambassador to Turkey, Rene Massigli, escapes from France. He joins General de Gaulle.

Secretary of Navy Frank Knox, home after a visit in the South Pacific war zone, calls prospects of another air attack on Tokio "good."

C. B. S. reports news broadcasts about the "Unconditional surrender conference" had a listening audience of 56,560,000. A. P. reports that dispatches of 20 correspondents totaling 70,000 words took 30 hours to transmit to London and New York from Gibraltar.

R. Maffard Stead, military correspondent of the Christian Science Monitor, reports from Casablanca, French Morocco: "I was in the same transport plane in which Edouard Bandry, well known war correspondent of the C. B. S., was killed." The plane escaped by flying so low between hills that gunposts on them were firing straight or downward at the sides of the plane. Flying from Algiers a navigation error found the plane over Spanish Moroccan territory.

Miss Carole Landis, film actress, enjoyed "the lovely fireworks display" of ground defenses when Axis bombers raided Algiers—a psychological "Dud" as a response to the Roosevelt-Churchill meeting.

The President entertains the Sultan of Morocco and his son at dinner and receives assurances of collaboration.

Request.—The Selectmen wish us to state that they are keeping house at the hospital (small-pox) and having engaged a first-class nurse and all the "fixin's" for a first-class establishment, they sincerely hope if there are to be any more cases of small-pox, that the parties will hurry up and catch it.

Re-Union.—The Arlington Roman Catholic Total Abstinence Society will hold a re-union in the Town Hall, Arlington, on the 14th of February. They have engaged the Metropolitan Band and the arrangements are in the hands of a committee that will leave nothing undone to make this an entirely successful affair.

Cold.—It was cold enough Thursday to suit us. One of our residents informs us that the thermometer registered 20 below zero and that with one exception, when it was 22 below, it was the coldest morning for 35 years.

Kind.—The members of Bethel Lodge, I. O. O. F., have furnished a fine reclining chair for the use of Mr. S. W. Haley, one of their members, who is, and has been for some time sick. Mr. Haley reports that his friends have been constant in their attentions during his illness.

By a notice in our advertising columns it will be seen that an enterprise is now well advanced which, when completed will unite the towns of Arlington, Winchester and Stoneham by a direct surface road to be operated by electricity.

A reception and recital given by Mrs. E. Nelson Blake, in honor of her guest, Miss Harriet Snider of Chicago, was one of the most delightful social occasions which have ever been tendered by this hospitable hostess to her large circle of friends. It occurred on Tuesday evening, the reception occupying the hour from eight to nine o'clock, followed by the recital. Mrs. Blake received in the library and in the absence of Mr. Blake was supported by Madam McKay who lent her dignity to the occasion. The hostess was assisted in receiving by Miss Snider, Miss Grace Parker and Mr. Edgar D. Parker.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Henderson will receive the Chautauqua Literary Circle, February 22nd, at their new residence on Addison street. A special program will be arranged for the occasion.

Rev. C. H. Watson, pastor of Arlington Baptist Church, is considering, and we fear with a strong inclination to return a favorable answer, a call that has come to him to accept the pastorate of the Fifth Avenue Baptist Church at Troy, N. Y., at a salary of $3,800.

Mrs. Burton Kline opened her charming home on Hopkins road for the monthly meeting of the Arlington Equal Suffrage League on the afternoon of January 23. Following two pleasing solos by Mrs. Dick, the speaker of the afternoon, Mrs. Sleeper, talked about the recent vote in Congress in favor of the Susan B. Anthony amendment.

The following was taken from last Sunday's Daily Post, and was written by your Lexington correspondent, J. Jerald Buck:

"Mr. and Mrs. Louis W. Reyeroft of 234 Pleasant Street, Arlington, have given three sons for service against Kaiser Wilhelm and the German autocracy. The young men are Harlan Long Reyeroft, Wendell Gage Reyeroft and Harry Fay Reyeroft."

Last Saturday evening Miss Anahie C. Malor, daughter of Mrs. Emil Mahr, and Mr. Tyler C. Richards of Norwich, Conn., were married by Rev. Charles T. Hall of St. John's Episcopal Church, at the home of the bride, 21 Elmore street. Mr. and Mrs. Richards will make their home at the Heights for the present.

Lieut. Robert C. Clifford, Jr., has been, since January 2nd, in charge of a train of twenty-eight trucks near the firing line. Lieut. Clifford is with the 303rd Motor Truck Company, somewhere in France.

Mrs. George B. Moody of Mt. Vernon street was pleasantly surprised Friday evening when friends gathered at the home of Miss Wynne Barrett, 224 Massachusetts avenue, to honor her birthday.

Delicious refreshments were served from a beautifully appointed table in shades of pink and white. The color scheme was carried out in the tablecloth, napkins, crystal pendant candlesticks holding tall white tapers and in a beautiful bouquet of pink and white sweet peas in crystal vase on reflecting glass flanked by two large decorated birthday cakes.

Mrs. Moody received many beautiful gifts. Among those present were Miss Mildred Evans, Miss June Simmons, Miss Isabel Slack, Miss Elsie Greenwood, Miss Muriel Moody, Charles Miller and Miss Barrett.

WOMEN TO HEAR HOW TO MEET MEAT PROBLEM

tion to the recipes actually demonstrated before the audience, mimeographed sheets containing at least ten other recipes to be tried at home, will be distributed.

Throughout her demonstrations, Mrs. Cheever will stress the proper methods to use in order to cut gas consumption, and to get the most for one's money in operating one's gas stove.

On Monday and Friday, at the meetings to be held at the Center and at East Arlington, Squire will present an exhibit of variety meats, principally of pork products, and the preparation of these unusual cuts will be explained.

Point Rationing

An added feature of considerable interest and importance will be the explanation of the point rationing of fruits, vegetables, and juices, soon to go into effect. Many women have expressed considerable bewilderment as to just how this point system will work, and this is an excellent opportunity to hear a detailed explanation at the hands of a competent authority.

A Message to Hitler on His 10th Anniversary

By EARL A. RYDER

We are thinking of you Hitler,
And wondering what you'll say
To your disordered people
This anniversary day.

You can't tell them you have conquered
And are ruling all the world,
And that the flag of Nazism
Everywhere is now unfurled.

You can't tell them that you've won
All of Britain's vast domain,
That you boasted you would win
When your bombs began to rain.

You can't tell them you've licked Russia,
And control its fields of oil,
As well as all its industries
And rich and fertile soil.

But you can tell them truly
Of the people you have slain,
Because they would not bow to you
And follow in your train.

You can tell them you've destroyed
Rarest books, and pictures too,
And closed the churches, banned the priests
And the hated Jew.

You can tell them you've bombed schools
Where little children played,
And hospitals where wounded lay,
And nurses giving aid.

And in closing you can tell them
That you are their FUTURE,
And of course you'll lead and bleed them
Until they'll bleed no more.
